DESCRIPTION

MAJOLICA is a cotton roving which is coated with natural geratine, "Konnyaku". "Konnyaku" is the Japanese food and it is a kind of taro. The texture of this yarn is crispy and it is like a paper yarn. Compared to normal roving yarn, it has less fluff and gives a refreshing texture. Supima cotton which is an ultra-long cotton, is used for this quality. The beautiful luster of supima cotton creates a sense of luxury.

This quality is dyed with special technique, please note that knitted fabric might have color spots or unevenness. Please note that the grade is 2-3 for color fastness to wet rubbing.

It is necessary to make specific trials in your own knits before starting production since the final result always depends on your equipment and the tension and stitch you choose.
